The Home and the School Share Responsibility for the Progress of the Child

To Parents:

Grade placement of pupils is determined by scholastic achievement provided the child is not retained in the elementary school for more than eight years and does not remain for more than two years in one grade, except under most unusual circumstances. In making final decisions on grades and promotion, consideration must also be given to general progress, sense of social responsibility, mental and physical health, work habits, and attitudes.

School personnel will be glad to confer with you about the pupil's progress.
